ONLY SHADOW NOW LEFT OF COURT HOUSE HITCHCRACK

Saturday, about the last reminders of the hitchcracks around the court house were taken down except a small section on the west end of the south side. The last rites were performed by Scott McCurdy and his gas torch. The iron posts were burned off even with the cement walk. Many months ago the chains were taken down and only the posts were left. Now the posts are gone and thus the progress of the world is shown. Time was, when it was proposed to have no hitchcrack around the court house that there was a rear of protest from town and country. Now it is gone and there is general agreement that it was a wise thing to do. Many of the posts were broken or badly bent where too enthusiastic motorists hit them when they attempted to park and the brakes did no hold. So now if you wish to park Old Dobbin and tie him safely, you will have to go to the south side of the square.

While engaged in the work of burning of the posts, Mr. McCurdy was burned. He was wearing gloves and a piece of hot cement flew into the cuff and before he could remove the glove, there was a painful burn. —Danville Republican.

MONOPLANE "GREATER ROCKFORD" LEAVES ONTARIO FIELD SATURDAY NOON.

OUT OVER BARREN WASTES

Aviators Enroute To Sweden Now On Second Leg Of Their Three-Stop Flight From Illinois.

(Bulletin)

COCHRANE, Ontario, Aug. 18 (UP)—The monoplane "Greater Rockford," took off at 12:12 P. M. Eastern Standard Time today for Mt. Evans, Greenland, Bert Hassell, pilot, and his companion, Parker D. Cramer, navigator, hoped to make the long flight over the barren wastes of Labrador and the Arctic straits by daybreak Sunday.

COCHRANE, Ont., Aug. 18 (UP)—Aimed toward the barren wastes of Canada and thence out to sea, the airplane "Greater Rockford" was ready to start today on the second stage of its flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden.

Yesterday Bert Hassell was forced to postpone his flight to Mt. Evans, Greenland, because of bad weather but with his flying companion, Parker D. Cramer, expected to get away at noon today.

Last night the two aviators studied weather reports. They had planned to leave at dawn, but indications were that more favorable conditions would be found at noon and they decided on the later take-off.

They hoped to reach their destination within 16 hours, and the noon take-off will permit them reaching the over water part of their voyage before nightfall. The plane already is fueled for the getaway.

SEEK IND'L'S MAN

Chief Kenney, head of the detective bureau of the Indianapolis police, called Sheriff Ed Eitelgeorge early Saturday morning and stated that the booze car which was wrecked on the National Road a few days ago had been reported stolen.

The sheriff then asked Kenney at what time it had been reported and after a time received the answer that it had been reported stolen at eight-thirty o'clock in the evening. This was several hours after the accident in the afternoon and the driver of this booze car could have easily gotten to Indianapolis and arranged everything.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Aug. 18 (UP)—Sheriff Sewell Falconbury is on the alert for the chicken thieves who "disappeared" Mrs. Eugene Demont, living five miles south of Plymouth. The thieves apparently had backed their automobile up to the chicken house and loaded between 200 and 250 fine Buff Rocks and drove off with them.

Mrs. Demont said she had just fattened the birds and was preparing to take them to market within the next few days when the theft was discovered.

FARM BUREAU PICNICS WILL BE CONTINUED

OUTING FRIDAY AT INDIANA STATE FARM WAS HUGE SUCCESS.

MORE THAN 1600 REGISTER

Visitors From All Over Indiana And Other States Augmented Putnam County Picnic Crowd.

According to reports at the county agent's office, between sixteen hundred and two thousand people registered at the first annual farm-ers picnic held at the Indiana State Farm, Friday. Souvenirs were given to the first fifteen hundred who registered.

The picnic was even a greater success than had been expected, as preliminary arrangements were made for only one thousand people and over two thousand attended. All who attended this fair were taken care of however, and the picnic was pronounced a grand success.

Several automobile dealers took advantage of this gathering and had new models on display. A fleet of new Graham-Paiges were brought from Indianapolis by the local dealer, and shown.

The large crowd that attended this picnic dispensed of any talk that the picnic would not be a success and that it would not be held again next year. This affair promises to become one of the gala days in Putnam county.

This affair was not confined to this state alone as cars from California, Texas, Oklahoma and many other states were reported to have been there. Also many counties through this state were represented.

Above Columbia the flood waters of the Broad and Saluda rivers converged into the Congaree and the main stream was at its highest level in 20 years. The same situation existed near Augusta, where the Savannah river stretched miles out of its banks.

In Virginia the flood menace was worst along the James as swollen rivers to the west poured their surplus into that stream.

MANY YOUTHS WILL ATTEND 4-H CLUB CAMP

FIFTH ANNUAL OUTING AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS OPEN ON AUGUST 31.

Between 175 and 200 Hoosier 4-H Club boys are expected to attend the fifth annual Indiana State Fair Boy's Agricultural Club Camp which will be held in the camp buildings located in the northwest corner of the fair grounds at Indianapolis from August 31 to September 8 as one of the features of the annual state fair. Two hundred new mattresses have been secured by the board.

The camp itself consists mainly of two large permanent buildings. G. O. P. PARTY HAS Foothold IN SOUTHLAND

ACTIVE POLITICAL MISSIONARY WORK BY DEMOCRATS IS NECESSARY

CLOSE CONTESTS LOOM

United Press Writer Believes At Smith Will Carry South, But Not Overwhelmingly.

The consensus of opinion of important southern political leaders and editors of papers throughout the south, as gathered by the United Press, is that Governor Alfred E. Smith will carry the southern states but that the Republican threat there makes some active missionary work necessary.

Here and there, it is admitted, such as in Tennessee, there are indications of close contests. Leaders say, however, that accentuation of certain local issues, such as revelations tending to discredit some Negro Republican leaders, will carry the Smith-Robinson ticket to victory in that section.

The anti-Smith element is both vociferous and active. When Senator George Moses, of New Hampshire, vice-chairman of the Republican advisory committee and eastern director, gave out an interview recently, saying he held little hope of breaking the solid South. He received by return mail a number of loud protest from anti-Smith voters.

"Chastened," he said, by these protests, he promptly announced a vigorous campaign in the South.

How the Republican threat impresses them is shown in the active orders which are going out to the local leaders to get busy. There will be a drive to get out many voters who hitherto have not bothered much about going to the polls in the general elections because they believed it unnecessary. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who is a member of the National Advisory Committee, will have general charge of this campaign to get out the stay-at-home vote.

Reports gathered by the United Press show the type of campaign that southern leaders are going to make to keep the South solidly behind the Democratic nominee. They are going to emphasize these issues:

1. White domination in the south.

2. Alleged sale of office by Republican Negroes, resulting in indictments in Mississippi.

3. "Republican corruption," such as the Teapot Dome oil case.

And the following two expressions sum up the type of appeal that will be made to southern voters:

"I shall support the Democratic nominees because I am a Democrat and a white man," said former Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi.

"If the Democratic party be now overthrown, then the overthrow or white supremacy will inevitably follow," said former Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia.

Herbert Hoover's order as Secretary of Commerce distributing a few Negro workers among the white personnel in the census bureau at Washington after he had received a protest against "segregation," which is forbidden in government departments, has been used already and will be used more in the campaign in the South.

A significant and enlightening view of the situation was given the United Press by Harry M. Ayers, editor of the Anniston Star, and a political leader in Alabama.

Ayers said:

"It is a well known fact in Alabama that the writer as a member of the platform committee of the convention at Houston and publisher of the Anniston Star, did everything in his power to prevent the nomination of Governor Smith.

"However, the Star believes that the interests of this section of the country will be best served by the change in party rule and accordingly will support Governor Smith in spite of our difference with him on the question of prohibition.

"But for Mr. Hoover's injection of the racial issue in the campaign, and but for the anti-lynch law plank in the Republican platform, it is believed that Mr. Hoover could secure a much larger vote in the South than he seems assured of at the present time. Undoubtedly there will be some defection from the Democratic party ranks on account of Smith's prohibition views and as consequence of religious prejudice.

"However, it is not believed that this will be sufficient to affect the electoral vote and that the South will continue solid in so far as the Democratic party is concerned. Recent revelations of corruption within the Republican party in southern states will contribute materially to that end."

Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, former Secretary of the Navy, and a leader of the "dry" fight in the Houston convention, says he believes southern Democrats will mobilize to elect dry members to congress and will vote for Smith because his record as governor of New York gives promise of an efficient administration of national affairs.

"I think the well-posted southern people are getting very much disgusted and weary beyond fatigue of the continued reiteration of the falsehood promulgated by people in the cities that the opposition to Governor Smith's nomination in the South has based upon prejudice," Daniels told the United Press.

"Nearly all of it was and is based upon his part in securing the repeal of the Mullen-Gage enforcement act and his attitude against prohibition. This was accentuated by his telegram to the Houston convention and by the election of Raskob as National chairman, who calls prohibition 'damnable'.

"I do not think anybody can say with accuracy that the South will do in this campaign. Very many Democrats are not inclined to vote for Mr. Smith. Comparatively few of them will vote for Hoover because of his connection with the administration which was the crookedest in the history of the country and he never opened his mouth against the conspiracy of corruption and because if he ever had an opinion about prohibition and its enforcement nobody ever knew it until he became a candidate for the presidency.

It will be hard to induce prohibitionists to be enthusiastic for a man who has shown no interest in a cause that is very dear to them.

"There are two moral issues in this campaign. One is whether the party guilty of the crimes of Teapot Dome and other naval oil reserves corrupting the ballot, buying senatorial togas and stealing what belonged to the veterans and aliens shall be forgiven their offenses.

"And the other is the prohibition question. I believe that the conscience of most of the dry Democrats in the South in the dilemma that confronts them will not permit them to vote for Hoover because to do so would be to condone the policy of favoritism and craft, one or both of which has characterized both the Harding and Coolidge administrations; nor to approve Smith's stand on prohibition.

"The attitude of most dry Democrats, I think, is that they will mobilize themselves to insure the election of dry Democrats to congress so that if Smith should be elected any worst recommendation he may make will have no chance of passing congress; and they will vote for him because his record as Governor of New York gives promise of an efficient administration of National affairs."

Touching on the Negro issue, the Miami Herald said recently:

"The white people of the South who resent anything that savors of Negro supremacy, will speedily take notice that many of those who control federal offices in the South are Negroes and that they have used their positions to graft upon those who receive federal offices."

The Negro population of the South is large. In South Carolina, estimates for 1927 show nearly as many negroes as white people, 893,200 as compared with 951,000, while the actual census of 1920 shows more Negroes than white people living in that state, and the same is true of Mississippi. The ratios are high also in Georgia and Alabama. The total estimated white population in the 11 southern states in 1927 was 18,491,200, as compared with 7,418,300 Negroes.

HOOVER HAS CONFERENCES IN ARIZONA

G. O. P. NOMINEE HAS LEFT HOME STATE OF CALIFORNIA BEHIND.

VISITS GRAND CANYON

G. O. P. Presidential Candidate Confers With County Chairmen Regarding Reaction to Acceptance Speech.

ABOARD HOOVER SPECIAL TRAIN NEARING WILLIAMS, Ariz. Aug. 18 (UP)—Herbert Hoover bade farewell to his home state of California early today and moved into Arizona for a round-table discussion with Republican county chairmen here about his endorsement of the Boulder Dam flood control and power project.

The Republican nominee expects the chairmen to bring him the reaction to his Los Angeles speech, for Arizona is as deeply interested in Boulder Dam as California and is on the other side of the issue.

The filibuster of Arizona senators twice defeated the Johnson-Swing Boulder Dam bill. Arizona wants the dam built at Black Canyon, further up the river, so that she will get a maximum share of the water to irrigate her arid lands.

When he arrives at the Grand Canyon after a side trip from Williams, Hoover will be between the two proposed dam sites, with Black Canyon to the northeast and Doulter Canyon to the southwest.

The day's schedule of his special train called for arrival at Williams at 11:05 A. M., mountain time. He will accompany the chairmen to the Grand Canyon, arriving there at 1:30 P. M. The party will remain the rest of the day at the canyon and will leave there at 12:01 A. M., tomorrow for West Branch, Iowa.

COW KICK SERIOUS

Harry Bain, residing west of this city, was severely injured Thursday when a cow kicked him in the face, inflicting deep wounds and fracturing his jaw. The accident occurred at the Bain home while Mr. Bain was milking the cow.

Dr. C. G. Bothwell was called and the injured man was hurried to the Home Lawn for examination and when it was learned that the injuries were of a rather serious nature he was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis. According to information received from the hospital an operation may be necessary.

The severity of the injury is due to the fact that the full force of the blow fell directly on the jaw bone and the medical examination showed that the bone was splintered. The injury was a very painful one and will disable Mr. Bain for several weeks.—Martinsville Reporter.

Slain Woman As Yet Unidentified

CROWN POINT OFFICIALS TRACE SLIGHT CLEW SEEKING IDENTIFICATION.

CROWN POINT, Ind., Aug. 18 (UP)—Authorities today base their hopes of identifying the charred body of a woman found near here Thursday on determining ownership of an automobile, with the license number which was taken by the town marshal of Dyer, near here.

The Marshall said he noticed the car Wednesday night, his attention being attracted because of queer actions of several persons riding in it.

Apparently it had been definitely established that the body is not that of Miss Angelina Zaccard, sweetheart of Angelo Francisco, Chicago bandit, slain early this week following the $12,000 robbery of a bank at McHenry, Ill. The dead woman had never been a mother while two children were born to the Zaccard woman. She is missing, having left the home of a friend Wednesday night of receiving a telephone call

Lesson for August 19
PAUL CARRIES THE GOSPEL INTO EUROPE
LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:36-16:15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come over into Macedonia and help us.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Wonderful Dream.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God Calls Paul to Work in Europe.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Pioneering in Europe.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul's Call to Europe.

I. Finding an Assistant for Paul (Acts 15:36-16:5).
1. Contention over John Mark (vv. 36-41).
(1) Paul's proposal (v. 36).
This was to revisit the scenes of their missionary endeavors to find out what progress the believers were making in their Christian experience.
(2) Determination of Barnabas (v. 37).
It was to take with them John Mark, Barnabas' nephew (Col. 4:10).
(3) Paul's opposition (v. 38).
He was suspicious of Mark because of his desertion on a former journey (Acts 13:13).
(4) Their separation (vv. 39-41).
Their contention was so sharp that they separated. God overruled this incident to the wider extension of the work. Barnabas took Mark and sailed to Cyprus; Paul chose Silas, and went through Syria and Cilicia.
2. Finding Timothy (16:1-5).
(1) The place (v. 1).
It was the very place where Paul on his first journey had endured cruel stoning. The conversion of Timothy may be regarded as fruitage of Paul's testimony at that time.
(2) His parentage (v. 1).
His mother was a believing Jewess and his father a Greek.
(3) His character (v. 2).
He had a good reputation in the church at Lystra and Iconium.
(4) His circumcision (v. 3).
Timothy had not been circumcised. Doubtless this omission was because his father was a Gentile. To avoid offense among the Jews, Paul circumcised Timothy.
(5) The ministry of Paul and Timothy through the cities (vv. 4, 5).
They delivered decrees which had been ordained at the Jerusalem council (Acts 15:24).

II. Forbidden to Preach the Word in Asia (Acts 16:6-8).
The inclination of Paul was to tarry in Asia Minor preaching the Word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. The Holy Spirit is just as active and faithful in closing doors as in opening them.
III. The Call to Macedonia (vv. 9-12).
The time had now come for the gospel to begin its conquest of another continent. By the crossing of the gospel from Asia to Europe the church, instead of becoming an oriental movement, became mainly occidental.
1. The vision (v. 9).
Being hemmed in on all sides, a vision was given to Paul of a man of Macedonia pleading for help, which made clear the meaning of the closed doors about him.
2. The advance (vv. 10-12).
As soon as the divine way was known they moved forward. Visions, to be effective, must be quickly translated into aggressive action.
IV. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).
The Jewish element in Philippi was so small that it was unable to afford a synagogue, therefore the devout people were accustomed to worship by the riverside. To a humble gathering of this kind Paul came and preached. Lydia, a business woman from Thyatira, believed. The steps in her conversion are worthy of note, as typical.

1. Attendance at the place of worship (v. 13).
Usually those whom God is calling are found at the place of prayer.
2. Listening to the preaching of the Word of God (vv. 13, 14).
Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the Word of God (Rom. 10:17).
3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14).
Only the Lord can convert a soul. It is our business to preach the Word of God, and it is God's business to open the heart of the inquirer. Regeneration is a supernatural work.
4. She was baptized (v. 15).
Every one whose heart the Lord has opened desires to confess Him in baptism.
5. Her household believed (v. 15).
6. Hospitality practiced (v. 15).
Those who have experienced God's saving grace are disposed to have part in His work by rendering aid to His ministers.

Nowhere Else to Go
I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me seemed insufficient for that day.—Abraham Lincoln.

BASE BALL GAME ON TAP SUN- DAY AT SOUTH PUTNAM TOWN.

Sunday afternoon, a picked team from the clubs of the Greencastle Twilight League, will cross bats with the fast going Cloverdale aggregation at the park in the south Putnam town. This promises to be a red hot matinee and no doubt several local fans will motor to Cloverdale to see the game.

Hauck and Oliver will probably form the starting battery for the locals. Hauck has proved one of the best hurlers in the Twilight League during the summer and Oliver is in a class by himself when it comes to receiving behind the bat.

Cloverdale has a good club, although they have lost two or three hotly contested battles during the past few weeks, and they are determined to defeat the invaders. The Greencastle boys, however, are just as equally determined to win the game, so there you are or what have you.

AT THE VONCASTLE

LATEST TOM TYLER AT THE VONCASTLE THEATRE A THRILLER

Two nomads of the wastelands—a man and a boy—start out across the desert to live down a tragic past and to court new adventures. That is the beginning of "The Desert Pirate" at the Voncastle Saturday.

In this gripping story of the cattle lands, Tyler has a splendid vehicle which gives him an opportunity to display his ability as an emotional actor. As Tom Corrigan, a sheriff who gives up his office because he believes he made the young son of a bandit an orphan, he portrays a human interest role. He fosters the homeless boy and they begin life anew.

Their travels bring them to the Bar A Ranch, where Ann Farnham, daughter of a ranchman, appeals to them to save her father from the clutches of a gambling ring. Because he feels himself responsible for the death of the boy's father, Corrigan has sworn never again to use his gun.

AT THE GRANADA

LAND BEYOND LAW, KEN MAY-
GRANADA.

The requirements of the average motion picture cowboy star seem just to be good riding ability these days. There are a few who go a bit further and add to their horsemanship some stunts with a lariat.

Ken Maynard, star of "The Land Beyond The Law," the first National feature Western at the Granada Friday and Saturday, seems to be setting the pace. For Ken, who was formerly the star rider for the Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Circus which stamps him as the scene's foremost rider, not only is he a first class rope manipulator, but is a finished rodeo artist.

AT THE VONCASTLE

"Thanks For the Buggy Ride," Delightful Comedy At The Voncastle Monday & Tuesday.

There is something inherently fascinating about a song writer trying to market a popular song, especially when presented in such a gay, biting manner as in Laura La Plante new feature comedy, "Thanks for the Buggy Ride," which will play at the Voncastle Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

This picture is one of the finest of the La Plante's. It is the type that will do her a lot of good with the fans because it is infinitely pleasing, a rare combination of rollicking farce (not slapstick) and a struggling, youthful love story.

Miss La Plante again proves herself to be the screen's leading comedienne and is so beautiful that she could easily be the screen's sweetheart if she wanted to specialize in romantic pictures. There is an aura of romance about her which all the comedy in the world can't take away from her.

Glenn Tryon is excellent in his role. Youthful and spontaneous, he is the ideal lead for Miss La Plante. Tryon since the days when he was a two-reel comedian, has always had that spark which makes great stars. His originality is one of his greatest assets.

ada Theatre Monday and Tuesday in his newest First National Picture, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

This is the picturization of the classic story of the Kentucky Mountains by John Fox, Jr. It is an ideal role for Barthelmess, a part much like his famous "Til'able David," which endeared him to millions of theatre goers in all parts of the world.

The story deals with the adventures of a mountain boy, homeless and without family ties. It has many thrilling and dramatic moments, and a sweet love story that grips at the heartstrings. While the period covered by the story includes the Civil War, there are no war scenes in the picture.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" was directed by Alfred Santell, who was also at the megaphone for Barthelmess's great story of the World War, the Patent Leather Kid. Molly O'Day, his leading lady in that picture is again seen opposite the star in this film.

Not all of them are able to marry millionaire husbands or retire as bank directors, for it appears that the expense of living up to their profession, even in France, is often disastrous.

Fortunately, the cinema and the music-hall branches of the profession have opened a new field for them. Investigation by one of the prominent Parisian critics has revealed that more than 40 per cent of the coaches for the "movie" profession in France are persons whose names have once been shown in big letters on the billboards of the boulevards.
